FRED E.

ENTERPRISE AI / APPLIED SOFTWARE / CORPORATE TRAINING

Chengdu, China | Fredilly@article6.org | +86 180 3082 8814
github.com/Fredilly | fredilly.github.io/enterprise-ai/

PROFILE

Computing-trained professional with an M.Sc. in Information Security, applied AI and software project experience, and over a decade of teaching and professional training in China. Combines implementation work with the ability to teach enterprise teams practical skills. Interested in AI workflow diagnosis, custom systems and sustained adoption.

SELECTED APPLIED WORK

Scoop / VCL | Applied AI product retrieval

Development and evaluation of a video-based product identification workflow, covering visual recognition, candidate retrieval, matching and regression testing.

Store operations | Business software

Inventory, sales and operational records in a database-backed web application, including authentication, stock management and administrative workflows.

Article6 | Data and validation systems

Structured document processing, data validation and web-facing software workflows. Selected projects and source code available through GitHub.

TRAINING & ENTERPRISE EXPERIENCE

Midea Group and Hisense Group | Corporate trainer, 2024-2025
Designed and delivered professional communication training for R&D, finance, legal and sales teams, including lessons and practical assessments.

NetEase | Executive communication training, 2019-2020
Delivered tailored professional communication instruction to staff and executives.

Chinese Academy of Sciences | Academic training, 2013
Trained more than 60 postgraduate researchers in presentation and research communication skills.

EDUCATION

M.Sc. Information Security | Southwest Jiaotong University, Chengdu
B.E. Electrical Engineering | University of Engineering and Technology, Taxila